Unwired mobile performance

TravelMate™ 660 Series

Unwired mobile performance

THE TRAVELMATE™ 660 SERIES IS A MAINSTREAM INTEL® CENTRINO™ MOBILE TECHNOLOGY NOTEBOOK DESIGNED FOR MOBILE PROFESSIONAL USERS, EITHER SELF-EMPLOYED, OR IN SMALL, MEDIUM AND LARGE COMPANIES, WHO ARE LOOKING FOR A SLIM, LIGHTWEIGHT DESKTOP REPLACEMENT PROVIDING INTELLIGENT SOLUTIONS TO THE VITAL ASPECTS OF THEIR INCREASING MOBILE-SPECIFIC NEEDS, INCLUDING EXTENDED BATTERY LIFE, AMPLE PERFORMANCE FOR DEMANDING APPLICATIONS, AND FLEXIBLE WIRELESS COMMUNICATION AND SECURITY FACILITIES.

First class Performance ...

As technology advances towards powerful, fully unwired mobile computing, the need arises to ensure that professionals from the broadest business backgrounds have easy access to integrated computing powerhouses featuring the latest and hottest mobile processor that not only can go almost anywhere but do not sacrifice battery life for performance.

... and comprising usability in a Mobile Desktop

The TravelMate™ 660 series is a mobile media powerhouse that packs Intel's latest Intel Centrino™ Mobile technology, excellent battery life and full wireless architecture into a stylishly slim design. The TravelMate™ 660 is a flexible solution and a solid choice for the mobile professional, offering powerful performance, manageability, dockability, multimedia and security in combination with up to 4 hours battery life and a large screen to enable even the most demanding end user to migrate from a stationary computer to a truly independent mobile desktop replacement.

Independently Mobile

The TravelMate™ 660 series boasts Intel's latest Centrino™ Mobile technology incorporating 1.40GHz or higher Pentium® M processors that provide top performance computing, integrated wireless connectivity and prolonged battery life. On top of 512 MB RAM (256 on TM66xXCi models), the large, bright 14,1" and 15" screens powered by 64 MB of VRAM make the TravelMate 660 a truly mobile multimedia desktop replacement. For even more flexibility, The TravelMate 660 can be supplied with the flexible Acer MediaBay which can house all kinds of optical drives, or even a second battery. For corporate users, the TravelMate 660 offers Boot-from-Lan, Wake-on-LAN, multiple passwords, asset tag storage and DMI BIOS.

Complete Communication and Connectivity Confidence

The TravelMate 660 incorporates the 802.11b wireless networking solution offering both reliability and high-speed, flexible and convenient connections to in-house LAN Internet, or to Internet "hot spots" that are becoming increasingly more widespread in airports and other public places, thus reducing the complexity of data connection around the ability to gain remote access. The TravelMate 660 also offers flexible connections to the web, to Remote Access Servers and to email servers via V.90 56Kbit/sec fax modem and via the integrated wireless LAN card. In the office, it can be connected to the local network and the ADSL uplink with the integrated flexible 10-Base-T / 100-Base-TX network card.

Integrated Security Solution

For multi login environments, the SmartCard solution offers a secure and convenient storage for several login/password strings, available with one mouse click. This integrated security solution also takes care of pre-boot authentication, and data encryption both for data storage and email attachments.
